How about this? I broke up the first sentence since it ran on and on.

On September 4, 2015, EPA's Mathy Stanislaus, Assistant Administrator of the Office of Solid Waste and Emergency Response, EPA Region 8 Administrator Shaun McGrath and officials from EPA's Region 8 office, met with local officials and community members from San Juan County, La Plata County, Silverton, Durango and the Southern Ute Tribe. Those attending the meeting discussed long-term options for addressing mining-related impacts to water quality in the Animas River Watershed, including designating the area as a Superfund National Priorities List (NPL) site. Several follow-up questions were compiled as a result of this discussion. EPA has provided responses to these questions, many of which are specific to the Upper Animas Mining District.

We wanted to suggest that the top of the Qs & As say something along the following:

“EPA Responses to Questions from Silverton, CO Town Meeting

On September 4, 2015, EPA’s Mathy Stanislaus, Assistant Administrator of the Office of Solid Waste and Emergency Response, along with officials from EPA’s Region 8 office and Town of Silverton, CO elected and local officials and community members (**R8 clarify attendees) met to discuss (**add specific meeting purpose). Several follow-up questions were compiled as a result of this discussion. EPA has provided responses to these questions, many of which are specific to the Upper Animas Mining District. (hyperlink to QandAs file).

General information on the Superfund process and Superfund National Priorities List (NPL) is available at (**or we can just hyperlink the terms):

Thanks, Joan.

The copy would introduce the link on the Documents page. Here's the way we've posted previous documents: <http://www2.epa.gov/goldkingmine/documents-related-gold-king-mine-release>. Could Cynthia or Johanna draft a few sentences to set the context - explain why the document was created, and when it was released?

Also, the version I've seen is the internal Q&A. Did you update the headline for the public-facing document you shared with stakeholders? If so, that's the version we'd want to post.

Thanks,

Christie

We have two options for posting:

1. Incorporate into the current FAQs
  - o We can add these into an NPL section
  - o Not all q's will be appropriate for this section
  - o Some q's will need to be reworded
  - o All answers will need to be copy-edited
2. Add this as a standalone document on the Documents page

- o We can reference the document in the FAQs with a hyperlink
- o We'd need to add intro text to explain when this document was shared with the community and why it was produced

I tend to agree with Melissa. It may be helpful to provide clarification on the NPL listing process and public involvement before posting these Qs & As. I've cc:ed Terry Jeng and Doug Ammon on this message, and we can provide some thoughts on this on Tuesday.

I suggest adding some more context if posting on the website. I believe we have general language outlining how NPL works and public involvement.
